Liturgy of the Word

First Reading

A reading from the prophet Isaiah.

The Lord has given me a disciples tongue. So that I may know how to reply to the wearied, he provides me with speech. Each morning he wakes me to hear, to listen like a disciple.

The Lord has opened my ear. For my part, I made no resistance, neither did I turn away. I offered my cheeks to those who tore at my beard; I did not cover my face against insult and spittle.

The Lord comes to my help, so that I am untouched by the insults. So, too, I set my face like flint; I know I shall not be shamed.

The word of the Lord.

Responsorial Psalm

Response: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

All who see me deride me.

They curl their lips, they toss their heads.

“He trusted in the Lord, let him save him:

Let him release him if he is his friend.”

Response: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

Many dogs have surrounded me,

a band of the wicked beset me.

They tear holes in my hands and my feet,

I can count every one of my bones.

Response: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

They divide my clothing among them.

They cast lots for my robe.

O Lord, do not leave me alone,

My strength make haste to help me!

Response: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

I will tell of your name to my brethren

And praise you where they are assembled.

“You who fear the Lord give him praise;

All sons of Jacob, give him glory.

Revere him, Israel’s sons.”

Response: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

Second Reading

A reading from the letter of St. Paul to the Philippians.

His state was divine, yet Christ Jesus did not cling to his equality with God but emptied himself to assume the condition of a slave, and became as men are; and being as all men are, he was humbler yet, even to accepting death, death on a cross.

But God raised him and gave him the name which is above all other names so that all beings in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus and that every tongue should acclaim Jesus Christ as Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

The word of the Lord.
